Guest Speaker

Marcus L Ovando

Our speaker this month will be Marcus L. Ovando, President of Erwin Sattler Clocks of America. Erwin Sattler Clocks is a division of Erwin Sattler, Germany “the maker of the world’s most accurate mechanical clocks”. His presentation will include a history of the Sattler Clock Company, a discussion of the Company’s precision movements, and their unique free hanging pendulum escapement.

Marcus joined Sattler Clocks in 2003 as their exclusive distributor for the Americas. His current responsibilities include sales, installation and warranty service for the full line of Erwin Sattler-Muchen clocks and watchwinders, which may be viewed by appointment at his showroom in Amelia Court House, VA (see their website www.sattlerclocks.com for additional information).

Free Stuff Table

The "FREE STUFF TABLE" is working well with several people contributing. We need more people contributing their free STUFF. You can contribute by bringing your "give away" horological items or tools that you want to get rid of for free. You can participate by just picking up 1 or 2 items to allow other people a chance at the stuff. After the business meeting and program, anything remaining will be DUMPED.

CLOCK & WATCHRepair Classes

Clock Class 9:00-10:00

VIDEO LENDING LIBRARY

Now is the time you can check out a video on Clock Repair, Watch Repair and various other subjects on clocks. If you would like to check out a video, all you have to do is let Lee Yelvington know. You can check out 1 video for two weeks either at the Meeting or if you want a video in between meetings, either call or e-mail Lee. Lee's e-mail address is itsabouttime@mindspring.com or home number is 919 851-3073. Any questions please call or e-mail.

MART:

Please bring your mart items to share with others at our Chapter meetings. We are fortunate to have an outstanding Chapter and we should show our support by bringing your mart items to our meetings.

MART MEETING HOURS

Remember that at all NAWCC functions we need to have our membership cards for member numbers and validations.

We will continue to start the mart at 8:30 and pay as we enter Please! This is in keeping with our contract and for the best interest of Chapter 17. The Holiday Inn requests that we not go to lunch until 11:15 even if they are ready sooner. No exceptions, Please!!!!

Ladies Program

The Ladies Program will be on scrapbooking everyone is encouraged to bring photos and everyone will try to make sample pages! Contact Judy Wentzel with ideas and /or suggestions.

NAWCC Spot A Clock

Remember to "Spot" Tower and Street clocks. Reporting forms are available in NAWCC Mart or via email at SpotaClock@NAWCC.org

Computer Users

Try using www.goodsearch.com for your searches and donate to the NAWCC. Downloadable versions for several Browsers. Each use donates .01 to NAWCC. It could add up quickly...9000 members who use it once a day would be $89/day or $30,000 /year. Try it and see.

2007 Election For NAWCC Board of Directors and Nominating Committee.

In this election three of the six open four-year-term Board positions are being filled; the other three will be filled by direct appointment following the election. Also in this election, two individuals are also running for one four-year term on the Nominating and Elections Committee.

Expectations of Directors The Board's primary functions are to set broad goals and directions, establish policies, and ensure management's performance. Day-to-day operations of the NAWCC are the responsibility of the Executive Director. Directors are asked to make personal financial contributions to the organization as appropriate to their situations and to assist fundraising efforts as agreed upon by the Board.

Qualifications The Board needs a balance of skills and experience to function effectively. Each director should be capable of contributing visible strength and leadership to the Board with respect to some set of the following:

- NAWCC familiarity and service
- Professional skill: education, finance, horology, information technology, law, marketing, museum management, planning, public relations, publishing
- Business management, particularly in complex organizations
- Board experience, particularly in complex nonprofit entities
- Community and public leadership, contacts with such leaders
- Large-scale fundraising

Other Considerations

Directors should be good at listening, analyzing, learning, and working constructively with others individually and in groups. They should be computer literate and have access to the Internet in order to participate in NAWCC Board work.
